CHURCH ORGAN IS DEDICATED

MRS. THADDEUS K. BEAL DONOR OF M. E. SOUTH GIFT.

ACCEPTED BY BISHOP

Instrument Is in Memory of Giver's Brother, Elias Orear—Anthems Feature of Service.

Bishop W. F. McMurry, president of Central College of Fayette, Mo., accepted, for the church, of which he is a head, the Elias Orear Memorial Organ, given by Mrs. Thaddeus K. Beal, at a dedication service at the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, yesterday morning. The Rev. R. A. Mitchell, pastor of that church, acting for the donor of the gift, offered the organ to Bishop McMurry after the latter had finished his sermon.

Charles R. Gardner, dean of the conservatory of music at the Northwest Missouri State Teachers College, played the organ for the dedicatory service. The organ was built to conform with the architecture of the interior of the church and lends itself to the surroundings in a pleasing manner.

A gold tablet on which is inscribed the name of the organ donor and the one to whose memory the instrument was given has been placed on the front of the cabinet supporting the display pipes. Elias Orear was a brother of Mrs. Beal and, like Mrs. Beal, was active in support of the church.

Anthems, "Let Mount Zion Rejoice" (Herbert), and "Mighty Jehovah" (Bellini) as given by the choir, accompanied by the organ, were features of the morning service. Mr. Gardner is in charge of the choir at that church.

Bishop McMurry used as his sermon subject, "What Think Ye of Christ?" from the text Matthew 22: 34 to 46.

"Man posseses a great power and that is the power to think," Bishop McMurry said, "it is the badge of man's authority and his superiority and a part of his kinship with God. It is a mark of distinction that is very significant and sets man apart and places him head over the creatures God has made.

"If we are to understand this Book, to find what is hidden beneath the features, symbols, proverbs and such as contained herein we must exercise that power. No man gets the truth who does not pause, seek into it, ponder and think.

"The Book reveals the will of God and I might offer you the comparison with a telescope. That instrument is a wonderful thing and man can use that to bring things closer to him but it is of no value to a blind man. A blind man, however, has as much use for a telescope as does the man who has a telescope and does not use it.

"The Book has no message for the man without a mind. It has as much of a message for the man without a mind as him who has a mind and fails to use it.

"There are many doctrines contained in the Book and while they are all equally true they are not equally important. It then comes for us to determine which doctrines are important and that can be easily answered. The most important doctrines are those which have to do with Jesus Christ. Learn of them and you will know the necesary ones."

Grocer Locked in Ice Room Sunday

It was a mighty pleasant day for most folks yesterday but for W. T. Burton, of the Burton Grocery Co., it was, for more than a half hour, a chilly one.

While at the grocery store Mr. Burton entered the ice cabinet and while in that place the door swung shut and the bar fell locking him inside. Only after he had removed a hinge from a window in the cabinet was he able to crawl outside where the temperature was much more pleasant.

FIRST ARTIST NUMBER SOON

SUZANNE KEENER TO SING AT COLLEGE THURSDAY.

FIVE OTHERS TO COME

Course Is Enlargement of Music Festival Policy.—Season Tickets To Be Offered.

The first number of the "artists' course," a series of entertainments sponsored by the State Teachers College, leading up to the annual Music Festival in May, will be offered this week.

The "artists' course" opens with a recital Thursday night by Suzanne Keener, coloratura soprano from the Metropolitan Opera Company. Miss Keener, in addition to her recognized ability as a singer, is said by those who have heard her to have an exceedingly attractive personality. Some of her numbers she sings in costume.

As now arranged, the "artists' course" includes six numbers. Three hundred season tickets will be sold. These tickets will be transferable.

An announcement by the College today says:

"In the past the institution has featured a number of outstanding musical offerings in a festival in May. While the course we are sponsoring this year will not do away with the annual Music Festival, it will broaden the scope of the entertainment as far as time is concerned, and will furnish you with a high type of programs regularly throughout the year. Then the festival will come in the late spring, with perhaps not so many attractions from outside of Maryville.

"We are offering a strong program this year. Next year it will be even stronger if we find that a stronger program is your wish."

Second in the course will be two recitals by Eugene Schmitz, pianist, who will appear at the College on December 2. In the afternoon he will give a lecture recital, and at night he will give a concert recital. T. H. Annett, of the College Conservatory of Music, studied under Mr. Schmitz at Colorado Springs last summer and speaks highly of him.

Jean Gros and his marionettes will give two programs on February 11. In the afternoon he will give "Uncle Wiggly," and at night "Huckleberry Finn." Critics have declared Jean Gros the outstanding artist of his type in the world.

The Cherniavsky Trio, composed of three brothers, a violinist, a pianist and a violincellist, will appear in concert on March 11. This trio has toured the world and is recognized as outstanding among all organizations of its kind.

Dr. Richard Burton, head of the English department of the University of Minnesota and nationally known authority on literature and the drama, will give two lectures late in March.

Merle Alcock, contralto, will sing some time in April. The date is to be announced after Miss Alcock has arranged her program.

Other announcements will be made later.

HENRY NANCE SHOOTS SELF

CLEARMONT MAN COMMITTS SUICIDE NEAR HOME.

CAUSE IS NOT KNOWN

Attempted To Take Life Several Years Ago—Funeral Arrangements Not Yet Completed.

Henry Nance, 70 years old, living two miles west of Clearmont, committed suicide near his home about 7 o'clock last night by shooting himself in the head with a shotgun. Judge J. N. Billingsley, who lives a short distance from the Nance home, heard the shot and a few minutes later found the dead man in the road.

Mr. Nance lived with his son, Abb, who is about 35 years old. He had been living near Clearmont for several years and previously had lived in the Elmo community. His wife died several years ago.

The cause of the suicide is not known, although it is believed to have been the result of worry over ill healthe. Several years ago, Mr. Nance attempted to take his life by swallowing carbolic acid.

Dr. Frank Wallis, coroner, viewed the body and pronounced death due to suicide.

The body was taken to Clearmont a short time after the shooting. Funeral arrangements are not yet completed.

Billy Lamkin, 16-year-old son of Uel W. The sudden death of the young man, who was a universal favorite with students and faculty members of the College, came as a shock to the host of friends of the Lamkin family. He had been in frail health, however, for a number of years.

A brief service will be held at the Lamkin home at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The body will be placed in a receiving vault until Mrs. Lamkin is able to accompany it, with other members of the family, to Clinton, Mo., where burial will take place. The family requests that flowers be omitted.

About thirty-five persons have been employed at the factory here during the last few months.

The machinery will be left intact until the reopening of the factory.

MORE BOMBS ARE EXPECTED

REED INVESTIGATION MAY FURNISH SENSATIONS.

SMITH IN LIMELIGHT

Committee To Inquire Into Activities Of Anti-Saloon League In Behalf Of Republican Nominee.

Chicago, Oct. 18.—Further political sensations are expected here today as Senator James A. Reed reopens the Senate slush fund inquiry into the recent one million dollar Illinois Senatorial primary.

Three subjects are to be investigated by Senator Reed in his single-handed quest for new evidence of slush, political corruption, and campaign terrorism in the recent primaries in which Frank L. Smith, former chairman of the Illinois public utilities commission, defeated Senator William B. McKinley for the Republican nomination. They are:

(1) The action of the Illinois Anti-Saloon League in indorsing Colonel Smith in the face of slush fund disclosures that he had spent almost $500,000 in the primary.

(2) Rumors that motor transportation companies contributed heavily to Smith's campaign fund, in addition to the $125,000 cash gift from Samuel Insull, public utilities czar of the Middle West.

(3) Reports of terriorism in the primaries and preparation for further terriorism in the November election by Chicago ward leaders.

Before returning home she spent a day in Noel, Mo., as the guest of Miss Helen Zenor, a former member of the State Teachers College faculty, and her mother. Miss Mae Corwin, who was also a delegate from the local chapter, remained in Joplin for a visit with friends and will spend several days in Kansas City before returning to Maryville.

BELIEVE NO. 4 WILL REMAIN

DRY LEADERS WANT IT LEFT ON BALLOTS.

CONFIDENT OF RESULT

Secretary of State Becker Contends He Has No Power to Recall Proposition Despite Gentry's Ruling.

Jefferson City, Oct. 18. — There is considerable likelihood that proposition No. 4—repeal of the state prohibition law—will remain on the ballot for the off-year election November 2, despite the opinion of Attorney-General North T. Gentry that the initiative cannot be used to repeal a law.

Attorney-General Gentry gave his opinion to Secretary of State Charles U. Becker Saturday but Becker said today he had learned of no means so far to remove the proposal from the ballot.

Becker said that he had certified the four proposals, therefore automatically removing all powers in them from his hands.

He said the attorney-General would have to bring mandamus proceedings against all of the county clerks and election boards to remove the proposal from the ballot.

The secretary of state said that he had also received a number of letters and telegrams over the week-end and which tend to show that both supporters and opponents of the proposal desire that it remain on the ballot.

The dry leaders of the state want the people to vote on proposal No. 4, Mrs. Nelle G. Burger of Springfield, state president of the W. C. T. U., and David W. Hill of St. Louis, president of the Citizens' Committee Opposed to Proposal No. 4, today wired Mr. Becker. They declared they are opposed to any court action to keep it from the voters next month.

The drys apparently are confident that the proposal will be rejected by an overwhelming majority.

In his opinion rendered late Saturday, Attorney-General Gentry held that Proposition No. 4 cannot be submitted to the voters because the initiative cannot be used to repeal an existing law.

Gentry held the initiative petitions, filed last July, to place the proposition on the ballot, did not come within the provisions of the initiative and referendum law. He ruled the initiative could be used to submit a new law or substitute another law for an existing one, but not to repeal an existing law. Gentry said no one had requested the opinion and that he issued it on his own motion as legal adviser of State officials. It is recalled that when the initiative petitions were filed they were reviewed by the Attorney-General and returned to the Secretary of State without the question of legality being raised.

Editor Objects to Marie's "Hippodrome"

Tennessee Journalist Declares Rumanian Queen Deriving Financial Profit From Trip To U. S.

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 18.—C. P. J. Mooney, editor of the Memphis Commercial Appeal, calls Queen Marie's trip to the United States a "hippodrome" and an attempt to exploit herself at the expense of the government, in a telegram to Secretary of State Kellogg. The telegram dated last Saturday follows:

"I beg, as a newspaper editor and as a citizen respectively, to protest against the state department itself being used as a means of exploiting the doings of the Queen of Rumania. I do not understand that her royal highness is coming here in an official capacity. I do not understand that she bears any official message from her government. Certainly I should not object to anyone or to the officials of the state department being courteous to the lady but there is now talk of a news syndicate having exclusive rights to such stuff as she might write or might appear under her name, or to the news of anything else that she might say or do."

Miss Dora B. Smith Elected Chairman

Miss Dora B. Smith of this city was elected chairman of the elementary department of the Northwest Missouri Teachers Association at the departmental meetings held at the College last week. Mrs. Theodore Gray was made vice-chairman and Miss Ruth Pulley of Trenton is secretary treasurer.

ANDREWS TO STAY ON JOB

HIS "TRIAL YEAR" HAS PROVED SUCCESS, HE SAYS.

DRY LAW IS ENFORCED

"Definite Progress" Has Been Made Toward Making United States Dry, Enforcement Chief Declares.

Minneapolis, Oct. 18.—Declaring that he has made material progress in the last twelve months toward making the United States dry, General Lincoln C. Andrews, prohibition czar, today announced there no longer exists a reason for his threatened resignation November 1, and that he will continue in office.

General Andrews embarked on November 1, 1925 upon a "trial year" in which, he announced, he planned to determine definitely whether prohibition could be enforced. He declared at that time that he would step out of office on November 1, 1926 if he had failed during the trial year to make material progress toward enforcement of the dry law.

"The trial year has proved that prohibition can be enforced," General Andrews said today. "I am not making the claim that the United States is dry, but definite progress toward making it so has been made during the last twelve months."

Progress made toward drying up the United States during the last twelve months was placed today under five specific headings by General Andrews. He announced that the government, during the trial year, has:

(1) Made material progress toward halting the diversion of industrial alcohol.

(2) Stopped the smuggling of liquor.

(3) Blocked the diversion of sacramental wine.

(4) Closed many of the breweries engaged in the manufacture of beer.

(5) Strengthened the federal law enforcement machinery and taken definite steps toward obtaining the co-operating of local authorities in halting violations of the dry law.

"Whether conditions will continue to improve during the next year is a question that I cannot answer," General Andrews said. "I feel, however, that the government will hold an improved enforcement machine the coming year and that we will approach the enforcement problem with fewer handicaps."

MARIE HAPPY OVER ARRIVAL

QUEEN HOPES AMERICAN PEOPLE WILL LOVE HER.

NOT OFFICIAL VISIT

Comes To America To Promote "Good Will and Charity To All"—Given Big Welcome At New York.

New York, Oct. 18.—The city, state and nation joined hands today in extending greetings to Queen Marie of Rumania, and her two children, Princes Ileana and Prince Nicolas.

The welcome began with the booming of twenty-one guns from Governor's Island as the municipal boat Macom took the royal party from the Leviathan to the battery. Fire boats flung columns of water into the air and airplanes hummed a welcome from overhead.

At the battery, a fleet of motor cars escorted the royal guests to the city hall, where they were extended the freedom of the city by Mayor James J. Walker. In the car with Queen Marie was J. Butler Wright, asistant Secretary of State, representing President Coolidge. Mounted police were busy holding crowds of curious thousands in check during the procession on Broadway and at the queen's departure for Washington on a special train at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Queen Marie enjoyed her first glimpse of America when the liner Leviathan, bearing the royal party from Cherbourg, arrived at quarantine at 6:15 o'clock this morning.

The great liner took on a pilot at Ambrose channel for the slow journey up the harbor. At 9 o'clock, the Macom and a coast guard cutter left the battery with the official welcoming committee to meet the Leviathan.

A cutter containing newspaper men left early for the liner.

"I am excited and happy over my arrival in America."

That was Queen Marie's first official utterance made after her arrival when she reached a group of correspondents. "I do hope the American people will treat me well and take me into their hearts," said Queen Marie.

"I am not an official person," she informed the newspapermen and pointed out that her visit is purely of a private matter. "My government expects me to follow my own lines, mainly, good will and charity to all."

Reports U. S. Ship Is Bombarded by Chinese

Shanghai Rapidly Becoming Gripped In Throes of Civil War Following Activities of Factions.

London, Oct. 18.—A Central News dispatch from Shanghai today stated the American steamer Iping was attacked by Chinese troops in the Yangtze River above Shanghai.

The Chinese were driven off by the fire from the American gunboat. The British river gunboat Bee was also fired upon by the Cantonese troops, the dispatch said. The Bee returned the fire and the Chinese retired without causing any casualties.

Shanghai, Oct. 18.—This city was a seething cauldron today as Shanghai gradually was being drawn into the warfare between the various Chinese factions.

Following the routing of Sun Chuan Fang, war lord, and the action of Hsia Chow, civil governor of the province of Chekiang, who began a troop movement toward Shanghai, three thousand Nanking rebels withdrew their allegiance from Sun. This revolt was hastily checked when troops loyal to Sun in the Shanghai area organized and marched on the Nanking rebels. After a skirmish, Sun's troops surrounded and captured the rebels. Sixty of the ringleaders were executed.

THE ONLY DAILY PAPER IN NODAWAY COUNTY

The Democrat-Forum will publish a number of pages from the Missouri Booklet gotten out by the Missouri Associated Dailies of which W. C. Van Cleve of Moberly is president. These pages contain much valuable information concerning the great State of Missouri and the booklet was gotten out for the information of advertisers and space buyers throughout the United States. People of Missouri, however, will find in them facts that many do not know and that are valuable to citizens of this state.

It begins to look like no courting in Europe for Uncle Sam.

The fellow with a motor boat is the only one who has not had tire trouble this year.

Going to the "drive it yourself" station instead of the livery stable is doing an old thing in a new way.

No use tyring to be thrifty. Just as we decide to spend no more money for unnecessaries, a Chicago outfit starts teaching salesmen "charm and poise."

A Kansas man has made a hobby of collecting beetles, and has 100,000 specimens. What's the matter with grasshoppers?

The current notion that women nowadays don't wear much of anything is refuted by the announcement that Suzanne Lenglen brought over nine trunks full of clothes.

When crooks are bold enough to use machine guns in the streets to clear the way for mail and bank robberies, it is time for the Federal and State Governments to quit soft pedaling and deal with this class of individuals on their own terms. Human life is nothing to them. They not only take other men's money but shoot down innocent citizens simply for pastime. It is time for the government to show something, besides inaction and delay.

THE CHANNEL SCORE

The International Channel swimming score stands now at four Americans, three English, one German, one French and one from Argeotina.

Seems as if this latest outdoor sport might be used for something serviceable. Why not send out teams to settle the European debt question? It's at least as sensible a solution as we have yet seen proposed.

AUTOMOBILE DEATHS.

There was a report, some weeks ago, that certain cities had reduced their motor morality rates this year, and people began to hope that genuine improvement had begun. The department of commerce, however, says that while some communities have gained, the country as a whole has lost. In the 66 larger cities of the country, the annual death rate this year is about 18.9 per 100,000 people, while last year during the same period, the rate was 17.9.

The very great increase in number of automobiles in proportion to the population must be taken into consideration. The percentage may be larger per number of people, but it is probably smaller per 100,000 automobiles. Figured in any manner it is still far too high.

HAVE YOU FLOPPED?

The husband of a college woman writes in her alumnae magazine:

"Gradually is borne in upon the husband the fact that women who have been to college 'flop' less quickly than their average sisters, and ocassionally don't flop at all. By 'flop' he means abandon all the curiosity that was theirs when they were young, their interest in letters, sociology, science, or whatever in the beginning thrilled them that this curiosity and the desire which accompanies it, to be allied to something which has no age and which is impersonally enormous, is still alive in her; and he realizes that had she not been to college she might never have known that it existed."

That is not only a rather keen tribute to the effect of college upon a woman, it bears itself an answer to the question now so often being asked: "What is education?" The answer would be: "Education is the power of arousing undying curiosity and interest in things bigger than the inquirer."

The more one considers that definition, the more powerful and comprehensive it becomes. One need add to it not even any moral or spiritual appendant. For out of definite and permanent interest and curiosity about great things must needs arise the desire for altruism and self-control.

Nor is college, while useful indeed, necessary. Anyone who can arouse in himself that permanent spirit of interest and inquiry will at length perforce become educated.

What Other Editors Say

WHY BOY'S LEAVE HOME.

Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas, in a recent speech, said that the keying is the training of our youth in ing is the training of our yoth in scientific agriculture, so that they can make farming pay. It was the sense of his remarks that as soon as the city boy learns how to make a better living in the fields that he can make in industry, then we shall see a movement from the cities to the country.

With the soundness of his argument, as far as it goes, one cannot quarrel. But there is another reason for the present unpopularity of the farm which he might do well to think about. That is its intolerable dullness. In a superficial way this is often noted, for the experts on agriculture are always advising their clients to buy radios and automobiles, and to set aside a certain portion of the earnings for recreation and culture. Yet it is doubtful whether any of these things, and especially culture, exactly hits the spot.

The real source of dullness on the farm is lonliness: One goes day after day without seeing anybody but the family and the hired men; only on Saturday night does one enjoy any conviviality, and this, often enough, is only the soggy conviviality to be found around a country store. Why doesn't some American community try the plan which has worked so well in France? There the farmer has conviviality every night, for he does not live on his farm at all, but in the village; and when nighttime comes he foregathers with his fellows at a pleasant tavern and contrives to forget his troubles until the next day. If our farmers, instead of living so dour an existence, would try the French plan in a few communities they might have to build barbed-wire fences to keep the city boys out.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Stewart's WASHINGTON LETTER

By CHARLES P. STEWART
NEA Service Writer

Washington—The fewer marriages we have these modern days, the more divorces are recorded.

That, at least, seems the obvious deduction from the marriage and divorce statistics Director of the Census W. M. Steuart has just finished compiling for 1924.

In that year 1,178,318 couples were married, or 45,606 fewer then in 1923.

Divorces, however, numbered 170,952 in 1924, as compared with 165,096 in 1923.

As population increases, one would imagine that the number of marriages would increase, too.

And so it has since 1887, until 1924, with the exception of 1894 and 1904, when there were slight slumps respectively from 1893 to 1903. These Director Steuart attributes to financial panics.

The record bears this theory out, for the curve was sharply upward in 1895 and 1905, suggesting that the happy couples were on Easy street again and in a hurry to set up housekeeping.

But times were all right in 1924. "Prosperity" was the slogan on which President Coolidge was reelected that year. The only conclusion Director Steuart can draw is that it was a period during which wedded bliss had, for the time being, lost something of its sentimental appeal.

In 13 out of the 48 states the number of marriages did increase even in 1924. What brought the total down was the decline in the other 35.

Now, why was there an increase in those 13?

Director Steuart's interpretation is that the 13 have marriage laws which are not very strict, while they adjoin states which are very strict indeed.

Missouri May Buy and Distribute Quail

State Game Commissioner Announces He Has Option On Several Thousand Mexican Birds.

Jefferson City, Mo., Oct. 18.—Tentative arrangements for the purchase of several thousand Mexican quail for distribution throughout the state next spring were announced yesterday by Keith McCanse, state game and fish commissioner. An option on the birds as obtained by Mr. McCanse while attending the national convention of game commissioners at Mobile, Ala., in September.

The Mexican quail is virtually the same as the Missouri bird, McCanse said, and they cross well with the quail of this state. The crossed product is slightly larger than the American bird, experts say.

No state in the union will allow the export of quail so Mexico is the only available source of supply.

The state purchased a number of the Mexican quail as an experiment last spring and they are doing well. When the Mexican birds are released they will be marked with an aluminum band on the leg. Sportsmen killing these branded birds will be requested to make a report, stating their numbers and where they were killed so as to enable the department here to determine the migratory habits of the new importations.

Now Curing Piles Without Surgery

A better and quicker method of curing piles than by surgical removal, burning out with acids, tying of, etc., is now being used with remarkable success by Dr. O. A. Johnson, well known rectal specialist, and for 21 years a practicing physician in Kansas City. He uses a treatment so mild that not even a local anaesthetic is necessary, causes no confinement to bed or room and affords amazing ease, relief and comfort with the very first treatment.

Unquestioned evidence of the success and advantages of this mild treatment is given in a book fully describing this method. Every suffered from bleeding, protruding piles and other rectal troubles is urged to send for a copy. Simply address Dr. O. A. Johnson, Suite 134-A, 1324 Main St., Kansas City, Mo., and it will be mailed free and postpaid. It explains also how other diseases often caused by piles, such as nervousness, headaches, backaches, constipation, stomach trouble, rheumatism, etc., disappears when the piles are cured. A copy is yours for the asking. Better send for it now.

DOCTOR BAKER

Twelve years ago this week I located in Maryville, I was given the glad hand by the people; however some of them were very frosty, but I stayed and worked and treated every one right and my practice has increased each year and last Saturday I had the greatest rushing practice I have had in any one day since I have been in Maryville. From 8 o'clock in the morning until 5:30 in the evening my reception room was crowded; I had no dinner, every minute of my time was put in correcting the errors of vision and fitting glasses. Patients came from a long distance besides three prominent ladies who live in this city. "How come," "Why so?" Because the public wants an expert, competent Optometrist, kind, honest treatment and full value for their money.

NEGOTIATE TO SETTLE SUITS

AGREEMENT IS REACHED IN SEVERAL DRAINAGE CASES.

OTHERS TO BE TRIED

Jury Returns Verdict in Favor of Defendant in Suit of Nigh Against Roy Miller.

A day of negotiation resulted this afternoon in settlement of several of the suits objecting to the report of the commissioners in the proposed extension of boundaries of the Andrew-Nodaway Drainage District.

In several of the cases, the attorneys announced that they had been unable to bring about a settlement and that trials would be necessary. A large number of farmers whose lands are involved in the suits spent the day in court.

Those who filed objections were John C. Maher, Luella Cardon, Edward Allen, Wayne Davidson, Julia Fisher and Fisher Potts, James F. McManus, John Holtman, Mary O'Malley, Alice Farnan and Andrew Van Fosson. Late this afternoon it appeared doubtful that any of the trials would be held before tomorrow.

In assessing of damages for right-of-way against the south 15 acres of the southeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section 2, township 63, range 34, the court found that they had been ordered paid to the Vance heirs when John Graham was the actual owner of the land and should have received the damages. The court according ordered that the $75, which the damages were assessed, should be credited to Graham.

In the replevin suit of H. E. Nigh, trustee of the bankrupt estate of Samuel O. Miller, against Roy Miller, the jury returned a verdict late Saturday in favor of the defendant.

Nichols and others, an order was made a few days ago dismissing the suit against Nichols and Clarence Moore and a judgment by default was returned against James O. Stafford for $140.58, plus interest and attorney fee. Today this order and the judgment were set aside.

Wilson Davis, whose bond was fixed Saturday at $500 on a grand jury indictment charging possession of intoxiciting liquor, furnished the necessary surety and was released from jail.

A continuance previously agreed to in the case of the State against George Clemmons, charged with possession of mash, was ordered set aside, after which Clemmons entered a plea of not guilty and gave bond of $500.

Inclusion Of Old Section In Election Law Phamphlet May Cause Some Confusion In November.

Jefferson City, Oct. 18.—Copies of the State election laws, sent by the Secretary of State to the counties for guidance of election judges and officials in the November election, still contain the old qualification section authorizing persons of foreign birth to vote if they have filed declarations of intention to become citizens, despite a constitutional amendment, now in force authorizing only citizens to vote.

Under the constitutional provision only persons with a full citizenship may vote, and persons holding only their first, or declaration of intention papers are excluded.

Inclusion of the old section in the election law pamphlet has caused some confusion among election officials and opens the way for unqualified persons to vote, according to local officers who are looking into the cases of several persons said to have voted in the primary election in Jefferson City on their first naturalization papers.

Section Not Replaced.

At the Secretary of State's office it was said the old section, now superseded, was left in the 1926 election law pamphlet because the last Legislature failed to repeal the section. The Secretary of State has no authority to take the section off the books without repeal action by the Legislature, attendants said.

The constitutional amendment, adopted in 1924, is printed in another section of the pamphlet distributed to the counties. However, no notation or foot note accompanies the section purporting to allow aliens to vote on their first papers, to show that it no longer is effective.

The section provides that every male citizen and every male person of foreign birth who may have declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States may vote in Missouri if more than 21 years of age and within the requirements as to time of residence in the State.

In 1922 a constitutional amendment was passed, striking the word "male" from the voter's qualification section, to permit women to vote. The amendment also omitted aliens with first naturalization papers and thus restricted sufferage to "citizens."

1924 Amendment.

In February, 1924, a constitutional amendment proposed by the constitutional convention was passed, still limiting suffrage to "oll citizens," subject to certain requirements. It excludes idiots, inmates of poorhouses or cleemosynary institutions and prisons.

Another amendment, passed at the same time, provided for putting into force all of the constitutional amendments proposed by the convention that were approved by the people. This amendment, termed the "schedule," provided that any laws then on the statute books which were in conflict with constitutional amendments adopted in the February, 1924, election would become inoperative 90 days after the adjournment of the next regular session of the Legislature after passage of the amendments. That session was the 1925 session of the Legislature.

Travels 3,000 Miles to Attend Homecoming

Graduate of Missouri School of Mines Makes Trip By Horseback, Boat And Train From Mexico.

Rolla, Mo., Oct. 18.—Stanislaus Lesniak, in Rolla today, travelled more than 3,000 miles by horseback, boat and railroad from the morasses of Tehuantepec, Mexico, to attend the three day homecoming celebration at the Missouri School of Mines here.

Lesniak, a graduate of the mining school, has spent the past nine years in oil geology work in Mexico. He blamed most of Mexico's internal dissension on religious persecution.

"Mexico," he declared, "is due for serious trouble. A revolution is threatening. Much of the internal dissension is, of course, due to religious activities, both persecution and retaliation. There is corruption in the government just as there is in many governments.

"The greaatest handicap to Mexico is the outside intervention and meddling.

"It would be a good thing not only for Mexico but for the United States and American enterprise if the United States would adopt and adhere to a fixed foreign policy. Americans are particularly unpopular among other foreigners in Mexico."

Intimate Friend of Rockefeller Dead

Frederick Hall Was Also Associated With General Grant and Mark Twain As Secretary.

Tarrytown, N. Y., Oct. 18.—Frederick J. Hall, who probably knew more than any other man of the intimate workings of the minds of such men as John D. Rockefeller, the late Mark Twain, and General U. S. Grant, is dead at his home here. He was 67 years old.

For the last few years, Hall, three times a week has gone over to the Rockefeller home at Pocantico Hills whenever Rockefeller was there; and often to the Lakewood Home of the aged oil magnate; and there has been Rockefeller's opponent on the golf links.

It was Hall who really knew just how good a golfer Rockefeller was; whether it was true that last winter down in Florida Rockefeller shot the best games he had played in the last five years; and he knew a lot of other things.

For it was customary for the two to play their rounds leisurely and Hall probably spent more time in intimate chat with the world's richest man in the last score of years than did any one else.

Hall's life was devoted largely to leisurely association with famous men.

While still a young man he was the personal stenographer to General Grant. Later he was secretary to the late Samuel Clemens (Mark Twain) and knew in detail the stories of the tragedies which were behind the humor that made Twain famous the world over.

E. J. Pettigrew of Kansas City spent Saturday in Maryville with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Pettigrew. Mr. Pettigrew is personnel director of the Eureka Vacuum Company.

Singer to Appear Here Gives Concert Despite Severe Pain

University, Va., Oct. 18.—Despite the handicap of severe pain Miss Suzanne Keener, coloratura soprano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, sang her part of the first concert of the 1926-27 McIntire recital series at the University of Va., where she appeared with Edmund Burke, baritone, also a Metropolitan singer.

Miss Keener was taken with acute indigestion the day before her recital. She was treated at the University hospital and improved during the day, but by evening she was ill again.

The enthusiastic audience in Cabell Hall, which recalled Miss Keener to sing encore after encore, never suspected that the dainty little singer in the picturesque foreign costumes was suffering paroxysms of pain as she sang. Dr. W. W. Koontz, of the hospital staff, who attended her, said that it was remarkable that she was able to complete her program.

Miss Keener almost collapsed at the end of her last number, a duet with Mr. Burke, but after a few moments she was able to hold a brief and informal reception for a group of students who asked her to autograph programs. She was much better when she left in the early morning for a tour through Nebraska, Missouri, Iowa, and Texas.

Miss Keener will sing in Maryville Thursday night in the State Teachers College auditorium as one of the major numbers in the College program of entertainment for the fall and winter terms.

The VANITY CASE

by Carolyn Wells

NEA FICTION

© 1926 by G·P·PUTNAM SONS

BEGIN HERE TODAY.

MRS. PRENTISS sees lights mysteriously appear and disappear in the HEATH household next door one night and the next day Harbor Gardens, Long Island, is agog with the murder of MYRA HEATH and the disappearance of her husband, PERRY.

House guests of the Heaths are LAWRENCE INMAN, heir to Myra's fortune, and BUNNY MOORE, vivacious, golden-haired, to whom suspicion points because of her refusal to answer questions.

Myra Heath was peculiar: She never used cosmetics, never wore colors. She had a mania for collecting glass, and it was a rare old whisky bottle from her collection that the murderer used to kill her. Candles were burning at her head and feet and nearby was a card marked, "The Work of Perry Heath." Strangest of all, she was heavily made up and garbed in gay colors.

The peculiar thing about Heath's disappearance is that all the windows and doors had been locked on the inside the night before and were found that way in the morning. Finger prints of Bunny Moore and Inman were found on the bottle.

At the Country Club the murder is discussed by SAM ANDERSON, Heath's rival for the club presidency; AL CUNNINGHAM, who is trying to solve the crime, and others. Some believe Heath the murderer. Anderson disagrees. TODHUNTER BUCK, nephew of Mrs. Prentiss and in love with Bunny, suggests to Cunningham that Heath also may have been murdered.

EMMA, a waitress in the Heath home, tells of Seeing Bunny ascend the stairs about the time of the murder, carrying her vanity case. Later Bunny is amazed to get a phone call from Perry Heath telling her Inman is guilty. Bunny breaks down and faints under a grilling by DETECTIVE MOTT, who makes up his mind that she is guilty. Inman confides to Buck that he saw Bunny creeping the stairs after the murder, and Mott, questions all the servants and tells them to keep silent.

"Hello," she said, putting out a little and rather limp hand. "Glad to see you."

Cunningham gets a note from Anderson and goes to his house where Perry Heath suddenly appears out of the night and begins to talk.

Anderson invites Cunningham to his house and there, while waiting for his host, Cunningham is suddenly confronted by Perry Heath, who disappears as mysteriously as he had appeared. Shortly afterward, Anderson comes in, and he reproaches Cunningham for letting Heath get away.

Todhunter Buck, puzzling as to the best way to clear Bunny, is sitting in the dark when Bunny slips out of the house of his aunt, where she is now a guest and joins a man at the edge of a wood. Buck doesn't recognize him, but when Bunny leaves, Buck follows the man and recognizes Perry Heath. Heath, however, gets away and Buck returns home.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XXXIX.

Todhunter Buck came down to breakfast next morning with what is popularly called a long face.

It didn't set well on him, his face being usually rounded out with smiles, and Mrs. Prentiss looked at him with an air of solicitude.

"What's matter, Toddy?" she said, reverting to a childhood phrase.

But the young man looked at her with unseeing eyes.

"Where's Bunny?" he said abruptly.

"Not up yet. She sent word she wasn't feeling well and would like breakfast in her room. I shan't ask her to get up until she chooses."

"She's got to get up—I've got to see her."

Toddy frowned and shook his tawny forelock like an irate terrier.

"You can wait," returned his aunt, placidly. "I won't have the little girl disturbed. She needs rest."

"Yes, she would—after skylarking about all night!"

"Todhunter Buck! What do you mean?"

"What I say! Bunny went out last night, very late, and came in very much later."

"I don't believe it!" and Mrs. Prentiss stared in astonishment.

"We'll you'll have to," and thinking frankness the wisest course, Tod told his aunt all the strange happenings of the night before.

Mrs. Prentiss listened in silence until he had finished the tale and then said:

"I don't care, Tod, I believe in that girl. If she went to meet Perry Heath—if that man was Perry Heath, then there's some right and proper explanation. Perhaps he has some hold on the poor child—"

"Well, she wasn't afraid of him, at any rate," and Buck scowled at the recollection of the meeting of the pair.

"You go up and see her, Aunt Em," he said. "Don't tell her I told you about it, but ask her please to see me. She can put on a dressing gown or something but I must see her—I must."

"You're not to bother her, Tod—"

"Of course not. But, auntie, you don't seem to see how serious it all is. The funeral of Mrs. Heath will be held this afternoon, and I happen to know that after that Mott means to get busy. He has a hunch that Heath will turn up for his wife's funeral. I am sure he won't, and that, when the services are over, Mott will make a dash after Bunny."

"Does Mott think Bunny killed Mrs. Heath?" The fire in Mrs. Prentiss' eyes would have daunted even the intrepid Mott could he have seen it.

"Oh, I don't know what he thinks! He doesn't know himself. But I do know that a lot of people over in the Park suspect Bunny, because they think she was or is in love with Heath. On the other hand, the Gardens people rather seem to suspect Inman, because of his well-known affair with Mrs. Heath."

"But, Tod, a man isn't going to kill the woman he loves."

"Oh, yes, he is—if she angers him sufficiently. Larry's a queer Dick, he's so quiet and taciturn, you can't tell what he's done or will do. Why, he put up a most plausible yarn to me, to make me believe Bunny did kill the lady!"

"Do you believe him?"

"That's the devil of it. I don't know whether I do or not. But I must see Bunny. A few moments' straight talk with that girl will tell me a lot. Do get her to let me see her, Aunt Em."

"All right, Tod, I will if I can. But no ballyragging, mind—"

"Lord, Aunt Em, I love her! Get that? And whatever I do or say will be only and solely for her interests and hers alone. I'll eliminate myself and my affection for her until I can dig up the truth and set her free from all taint of suspicion. And, to do that, auntie, I'm going to send for old Steve. He'll come if I yell for him and I'm about ready to yell."

At Mrs. Prentiss' insistence, Bunny consented to see Tod, and he entered her pretty boudoir to find a lovely little figure in blue chiffon negligee, seated in the depts of a huge armchair.

"Hello," she said, putting out a little and rather limp hand. "Glad to see you."

"You don't look it," Toddy growled, sitting down beside her. "Now see here, Bunny—I'm not going to ballyrag you, because I promised Aunt Em I wouldn't. But, in a few well chosen words, what were you doing chasing out in the woods last night?"

Bunny's face went dead white. She sat upright on the edge of the big chair and clasped her hands tightly on her knees.

"What do you mean?" she breathed, "how do you know?"

"Of course I know. I know where you went, whom you met and when you returned. Now explain."

But to his surprise the little figure took on an air of dignity and even resentment.

"Mr. Todhunter Buck," she said, "I have no reason that I know of, and certainly no intention of explaining to you why I do anything."

"There's a reason, all right," he returned, grimly, "and it's just this. If you don't let me help you you'll very shortly find yourself in need of legal help, and that, even at its best, may not be of as much assistance as I can give you. Because, Bunny dear—dearest—I love you so, and I believe in you so, that I can work for your interests far better than a stranger and a suspicious lawyer."

"Why should a lawyer be suspicious?"

"Because Mott and his crowd would make him so before he came to talk with you. He would be biased, prejudiced by their opinions and insinuations, and more than that, he would scare you into fits—"

"He would not!" and the scarlet lips closed in a mutinous line.

"Yes, he would. You don't know what inquisitors they are. If you are suspected, Bunny—there's no use mincing words—you will be heckled and tormented until you can't say your soul's your own! You'll be tricked into admissions that you don't mean, and that may not even be true. You'll be forced to confess and declare and agree, until you won't even know what you're saying. Now, this isn't fairy tales, it's true talk, and I beg of you, dear, to be advised by me. I've nothing in my mind but your interests, nothing in my heart but love for you. Please, Bunny, see reason—or, if you can't do that, then see and realize my devotion, and give yourself up to my advice."

She looked him straight in the eyes for a moment.

Then she said: "Toddy, if you had to keep silent or else incriminate a friend—which would you do?"

(To Be Continued).

OVER-KINDNESS IS NOT GOOD FOR HYSTERIA

Any Physical Cause for Hysteria or Neurasthenia Must First Be Eliminated and the Victim May Then Adjust Himself to Life.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator From New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

One of the distressing ailments sent to afflict the human family is "hysteria." Hysteria and what we call "neurasthenia" are closely related. They are not the same, by any means, because the mental attitude in the two conditions is entirely different. In hysteria there is a giving way to the impulses. Like a watch without a balance wheel, the victim just runs on, making no effort at self-control.

In neurasthenia we have an overtired individual with whom we must deal. The neurasthenic tries to get rid of his trouble. He dreads all of the symptoms and would avoid them if he could. In consequence of his mental attitude he becomes the victim of numerous fears and anxieties. He is afraid he is going to have apoplexy or heart disease or cancer or some other ailment.

You can see that both the hysterical subject and the naurasthenic fail to adjust themselves to their surroundings. They have no powers of adptability. In this sense, for the time they are mentally abnormal.

I doubt if there is any other problem presented to the doctor half as difficult as this one. It will tax his ingenuity and exhaust all his medical knowledge.

When it is possible to find a physical basis for the symptoms of hysteria it lightens the burden a lot. A good many times this can be done. Any derangement of the stomach or intestines may have such a profound effect upon the nervous system, as to lead to the familiar symptoms of hysteria.

The age of maturity is a very important age both in boys and girls. Changes are taking place in the nervous system quite as important as those in the general physical system. They must be watched over at this critical time and every effort should be made to guard the health. Undue excitement, exhaustive effort in school, trade, or calling must be avoided. Pleasant surroundings, cheerful associates, and contented occupation are vital to the proper development of body and mind.

In the length of this short article it is impossible to go into any detail regarding the management of hysteria. It must be enough to say that merely to humor the victim, to let her live in the lap of luxury, and to encourage every vagary of mind, will be simply to perpetuate and aggravate the trouble. Deprivation is much more important than luxury, but the trouble is most cases of hysteria is that we are dealing with a family and not with an individual. The expression of the natural tenderness and love of the parents and relatives will tend to perpetuate the disease rather than to control it. Every case must be studied on its merits and dealt with accordingly.

Answers To Health Queries.

S. V. Q.—Is it harmful to eat half a grape fruit and a piece of toast for reducing purposes?

A.—No. The safest and surestway to take off superfluous flesh is to reduce [redacted] and to eat only at meal times. For other particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

R. I. C. Q.—My finger nails are full of vertical ridges and white spots. What can be done for this condition?

A.—Probably due to some constipational disturbance. See your doctor for his opinion. The white spots may be due to improper handling of manicure instruments or rough treatment of the nails, and in this case will grow out with the nail.

H. H. R. Q.—I have a sore leg from the knee down and my ankle swells. If on the feet for any length of time the leg becomes inflamed. Have been taking a heart medicine and using cocoa butter on the leg. What would you advise?

A.—You probably have varicose veins aggravated by your heart trouble. Bandaging or wearing an elastice stocking should be helpful. Keeping off the feet and avoiding undue exertion will also relieve the pressure through the veins. You should follow your doctor's advice as to the treatment necessary for your heart condition.

Predicts No Upsets in Tennessee Voting

Secretary of State Haston, Democrat, Optimistic Over Outlook In November—Many Congressmen Unopposed.

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 18.—Tennessee will not be a "doubtful state" this year in the November elections even though it has cut some wierd political capers in the past, according to Secretary of State Ernest H. Haston, chairman of the Democratic state committee.

A slight dissension in the Democratic ranks is admitted by Haston, as a result of the defeat of State Treasurer Hill McAllister for governor by Austin Peay, incumbent, in the primaries.

However, the majority of Democratic leaders are claiming that only a few McAllister supporters will vote for Walter White, Republican candidate from Dayton. Whether the evolution question will crop up during the pre-election period is problematical, according to politicians who say as a campaign issue it is of very little importance.

Two of the ten congressional districts, however, have nominees with no opposition.

Young Coolidge Has "Hardboiled" Guard

Col. Edward W. Starling Former Railroad Officer And Policeman But Knows How To Wear Dress Suit.

Washington, Oct. 18.—Col. Edward W. Starling, assigned to guard and advise John Coolidge, son of the president, is a typical police officer who passed through the school of railroad detective work in the South.

Before coming to Washington, he was considered one of the "hardest boiled" detectives on railroad duty, and his name was a terror to bandit gange throughout the South. He succeeded in breaking up numerous box car bandit groups, several at the risk of his life, and gained the title of "most valuable man in the Louisville and Nashville railroad police."

His Colonel title came from Governor Morrow of Kentucky who named him on his staff. He had been in the U. S. cavalry as a top sergeant, regular army.

Despite his reputation as a "hard boiled" police officer, Col. Starling is one of the most courtly men ever connected with the White House. His eloquence and elegance are known in many cities for he has been the "advance man" for most presidential trips since the Wilson regime.

This position called for tact for he had to see that all arrangements of a presidential visit were prefect.

Starling began as a deputy in Kentucky. He is handsome, over six feet tall, and heavily built. While he is a gangster' terror, he also can wear gracefully a dinner coat and this fact perhaps caused his selection as guard and social arbiter for young Coolidge.

Cape Girardeau—Work will be started within the next two weeks on a $40,000 gas plant for this city. Additional mains will be installed to provide for the extension of gas service.

Conception Man Is Injured in Wreck

E. H. King, Fireman, Suffers Cut On Head And Body Bruises In Collision Near St. Joseph.

E. H. King, 30 years old, a fireman on the Chicago Great Western, was injured Saturday afternoon when the extra freight train on which he was firing ran into the rear of a regular freight train a few miles north of St. Joseph. Mr. King lives at Conception.

He suffered a severe cut on the head and was bruised on the body. He was taken to the Missouri Methodist Hospital at St. Joseph where it is said his condition is not dangerous.

Great Western officials have launched an investigation to fix the blame for the wreck. Both train were southbound. The caboose of the first and the engine of the second were badly damaged. The wreckage was cleared away late Saturday afternoon and the line was open at night.

Father of St. Joseph Athletes Ends Life

George W. Cummings, 66, a retired carpenter of St. Joseph, committed suicide Sunday morning by shooting himself in the head. Cummings was the father of five sons, Finis, Rolland, Weston and Clifford Cummings, all of St. Joseph, and Lester Cummings, Chicago. All the sons are well known in Maryville because of their participation in basketball games for Benton's High School. Lester Cummings was connected for some time with the Missouri high way department and was stationed here.

Three of Blanchard Family Die in Week

Two Children and Grandfather Victims of Sudden Illness—Fourth in Serious Condition.

St. Joseph, Oct. 18. — Tragedy fell upon the family of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin L. Willcox of Blanchard, Iowa, last week, death taking a toll of three, while a fourth is in a serious condition at a St. Joseph hospital.

Last Tuesday Mr. Willcox's father died at Blanchard. When he returned from the burial the following day Mr. Willcox found his two sons, Don, 4, and Albert, 2, and his step-daughter, Phyllis, 9, ill. The condition of each rapidly grew worse and they were rushed to the hospital.

At the hospital examination revealed that each was suffering from a stomach trouble common to children and often resulting fatally, according to physicians.

Saturday, the oldest boy died. A complication of pneumonia developed in the illness of Albert, and yesterday he died. Hope is held for the recovery of the little girl.

NODAWAY COUNTY FARM NEWS

By BILLY TILSON.

By BILLY TILSON.

T. E. Archer, west of Conception, was transacting busines in Maryville Saturday. He says the farmers are not able to get into the fields and the acreage of wheat put out will not be very large. He doesn't think the yield of corn will come up to the estimate.

John Porch, A Smidt, George Auffert and Thomas Logan of the Parnell country were transacting business in the city Saturday. They report that the corn in that vicinity is damaged somewhat, but say that fall pastures are excellent for stock.

Howard Bancroft and wife, northeast of Clearmont, were visiting in the city Saturday. Mr. Bancroft says those that have hogs to feed are having a hard time getting it out of the field. Some of the farmers that expected to put out wheat have given up sowing.

Virgil Lauthlin and wife, north of Guilford, were visiting relatives in Maryville Saturday.

Frank Lyle, northeast of Barnard, has lost ninety head of shoats lately. He says he has been kept busy for the past three weeks hauling them off and burning them. Frank says he has had poor luck with his hogs for a few years back and has tried out every way to stamp out the plague.

Dave Horn, northwest of Maryville, says the boys finished getting in around fifty acres of wheat Saturday. They have been since the last of August working every day that was fit. Fifteen acres is up looking fine.

Frank Hinton, southeast of Pickering, says he was raised in the vicinity where he now lives and can't remember of the fields being in such condition at this time of the year. He is feeding 100 head of fine shoats and has been gathering three loads of corn a day to feed them and his stock hogs. He says it sounds like he is feeding plenty of corn but has been unable to pull out of the fields with only a ten-bushel load but says a few days of drying weather will make quite a change. Frank thinks his corn will fall ten per cent below what he had estimated.

Dick Collins, southwest of Pickering, says he was unable to get corn enough out of the field to feed his hogs so he turned his fine bunch of shoats in on the corn and is carrying corn out in the sack to feed his herd of brood sows. Dick thinks that some of his corn that was blown down on the ground will be damaged 50 per cent for marketing or feeding purposes.

Andrew Jensen, northeast of Wilcox, was a Maryville visitor Saturday. Mr. Jensen says he is kept pretty busy looking after his stock, the bad weather of the past several weeks making it unpleasant to get around.

The road southwest of Burlington Junction, has been made passable for cars and also the road running west out of Clearmont to Elmo. Every one seems willing to help get the roads so that travel can be resumed on most of them but it will be sometime before the larger bridges can be replaced.

German Coal Experts to Come to Pittsburgh

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 18.—The Germans, considered the world's leaders in coal research, will send their leading scientists to America to describe their discoveries.

This step in international cooperation will be taken at the conference on Bituminous coal at the Carnegie Institute of Technology on Nov. 15 to 18, President Thomas S. Baker announced today.

Dr. Friedrich Bergius and Franz Fischer will represent Germany at the meeting. They are the inventors of processes considered the most promising of all of the methods so far devised for the production of fuel oil from coal.

Foreign leadership in coal research is explained by the fact that America has a wealth of petroleum resoruces, while in Europe there is little natural petroleum under the ground, and the possibilities of using coal have therefore been carefully investigated.

Miss Marie Ashford is visiting relatives in Kansas City.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Adkins of Elmo announce the birth of a daughter, born Saturday.

INSIST UPON KEMP'S BALSAM for that COUGH!

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Closing Grain Review.

Chicago, Oct. 18.—Profit taking erased most of the early price advance that grains had registered on the Chicago Board of Trade because of the higher Liverpool prices. A tight freight situation and low stocks forced foreign prices up early, but they weakened a bit later in the day.

Wheat closed ¾ to ⅝ cent up. The market was steady during most of the session. Cash prices were steady to 1 cent higher.

Corn firmed on the strength in wheat, only to lose most of the gains later in the day. Futures closed ⅜ to ½ cent higher while the cash article was steady to ¾ cent higher.

Oats followed the other grains to a close, ⅛ to ¼ cent higher than Saturday. There was no price change around the cash tables.

Provisions closed lower on selling of lard.

MUST EARN THE HONORS

WOMAN POLITICIAN IS OF THAT OPINION.

WILL SPEAK TONIGHT

Mrs. Florence G. Farley, Democratic National Committeewoman, Of Kansas, In Address Tonight.

That women should be accorded their places in politics and should be given party honors but given only those honors after earning them is the opinion of Mrs. Florence G. Farley, Democratic national committeewoman, of Wichita, Kan. Mrs. Farley is in Maryville today and will speak at a mass meeting to be held in the circuit court room of the court house here at 8 o'clock tonight.

"It has been my experience to observe some strange thinking on the part of many women," Mrs. Farley said. "Some of them seem to think that just because they are women they should be given the party's honors and the best seats in the meetings. While I am a femininist and believe women should be given their proper honors, they should not be given, nor should they expect, party honors until they have earned them."

Women who demand or expect the higher honors given by the political parties are not considerate of others if they attempt to procure those honors over men or other women whose services to the party has been longstanding, she thinks. She also commented on the practice in Missouri of dividing most of the party honors and giving men and women an equal number of places on the various committees. Such an arrangement solves many problems and prevents many factional fights, she thinks.

Mrs. Farley spoke highly of Mrs. Emily Newell Blair, Democratic national committeewoman from Missouri, who was in Maryville Saturday where she spoke before the annual meeting of the Northwest Missouri Teachers Association.

"Mrs. Blair has come to mean much in Democratic circles," the Kansan said, "for the women have come to have much confidence in her. She is one to whom women would go for counsel and one who those of her sex feel they can trust.

The two national committeewomen are good friends and Mrs. Farley said today that she had spent much time in Mrs. Blair's home in Joplin, where they conferred on political matters.

Mrs. Farley has been interested in politics for many years, having assisted her mother, who was in business in Wichita, and was interested in suffrage several years ago, as a secretary. She is now serving her second term as national committeewoman from her state, having been elected this second time to the office without the aid of the men in her party after she had asked them to allow the women to conduct the election. Some months ago she assisted in the School of Democracy held in Washington, D. C., which was attended by many women.

She will speak on the subject of national issues at the meeting tonight. Mrs. C. P. Fryer, vice-chairman of the Democratic county central committee, will introduce her.

Produces Pork at 3.9 Cents a Pound

John A. Burch, Clearmont, Gets 200 Pounds Gain On Two Hogs In Twenty-Five Days.

John A. Burch, well known farmer of the Clearmont vicinity, is well pleased at the gains in weight made by two hogs which he has been feeding for four weeks.

Mr. Burch bought the hogs, two Chester White yearling sows, from a neighbor. They weighed on that day 450 pounds. Just twenty-five days later he weighed them and the total was 650 pounds, a gain of 100 pounds each, or 4 pounds a day.

The first week they were fed ten ears of corn twice a day, together with a bucket of swill from the kitchen, to which was added just a little milk. The corn was unshelled. After the first week, the feed consisted of shelled corn, fifty ears each day, shelled and soaked for twenty four hours.

At 75 cents a bushel for the corn, Mr. Burch estimates the cost per pound of gain at 3.9 cents.

Starts Sixteenth Year of Collecting

Mrs. A. E. Oberlander Has Been With Telephone Company Here for Fifteen Years.

It was October 16, 1911. A light snow was falling over Maryville as from out the office of the Bell Telephone Company there walked a small woman, her hands holding a black folder from the ends of which protruded many slips of folded paper. The woman was Mrs. A. E. Oberlander who today started on her sixteenth year of service for the telephone company here.

Collecting is not the most pleasant thing, nor the easiest but the task of procuring payment of the many accounts held in her hand held no fear for Mrs. Oberlander. Nor has the job held any since.

"I've always had a sort of hankering for collecting," she said today "and it's never been hard for me to get my work done."

During the fifteen years Mrs. Oberlander has been collecting, first for the Bell Telephone Company, and later, when H. C. Todd bought that company's exchange here, for the Hanamo Telephone Company, she has collected thousands of accounts. In all, she has collected somewhere near 200,000 bills. Some needed to be presented only once, other many times but paraphrasing the Royal Mounted Police's code, "Get your man," so has she carried out the bill collector's motto, "collect that account," those in whose employe she has been will tell you.

STILL SEARCH FOR "MISS X"

OAKLAND, CALIF., WOMAN TO BE SUMMONED.

AS DEFENSE WITNESS

Attempt Will Be Made To Discredit Testimony Of Mrs. Sielaff Regarding Conspiracy Charges.

Los Angeles, Oct. 18.—Identification of the mysterious "Miss X" of the Aimee Semple McPherson case still is occupying the center of the stage today as the preliminary hearing of the evangelist, her mother, Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, and Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman-Sielaff, all sharged with conspiracy, enters its fourth week.

Mrs. Virla Kimball of Oakland, a sister of Mrs. Wiseman-Sielaff, chief prosecution witness, will appear at the preliminary hearing today as a witness for the defense. Mrs. Kimball was subpoenaed in connection with efforts of the defense to prove that she was the woman who swore in an affidavit made in Salinas, Calif., that she was the "Miss X" who spent ten days with Kenneth G. Orminston, Mrs. McPherson's former radio operator, in a cottage at Carmel-by-the-Sea. Mrs. Wiseman-Sielaff, confessing from the witness stand to framing the "Miss X" hoax under Mrs. McPherson's direction, testified that the signer of the false affidavit at Salinas was Miss Rachel Wells of Philadelphia.

The defense hopes to prove that Mrs. Kimball was the Salinas "Miss X" and that she thereby impeached in part and weakened in fact Mrs. Wiseman-Sielaff's testimony.

Latter Day Saints Observe Anniversary

Church at Guilford Built Eleven Years. Missionary From Honolulu Gives Illustrated Lecture.

All-day services in observance of the eleventh anniversary of the dedication of the Latter Day Saints Church in Guilford were held there yesterday, with the morning sermon given by Apostle Myron A. McConley, a returned missionary from Honolulu.

A basket dinner was held at noon, and in the afternoon there was a union service for the community. At night Apostle McConley gave an illustrated lecture on his work in the Hawaiian Islands.

The services yesterday began a revival which will continue probably for two weeks. Apostle McConley will preach tonight and tomorrow night and on Wednesday night will give another illustrated lecture, this time on New Zealand and Australia.

Other services during the week will be conducted by Patriarch Samuel Twombly of Fanning, Kan., and next week Elder Charles May, a returned missionary from the South Sea Islands, will conduct several meetings.

The Latter Day Saints Church at Guilford has no resident pastor, but the pulpit is supplied frequently from St. Joseph. W. T. Ross, Guilford postmaster, is president of the Guilford branch of the Latter Day Saints.
